THE STATE ELECTIONS.

Flower in New York and Maj. McKinley in Ohio.

AGAIN IT IS GOVERNOR RUSSELL

In Massachusetts Boies of Iowa "Got There in Fine Shape"—Pennsylvania Is Decidedly Republican—Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey Are Democratic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The latest election returns from New York state indicate the election of Flower for governor by a majority of at least 20,000. His majority in this city is fully 58,000. The vote of the city and throughout the state fell off considerably as compared with the last gubernatorial election, the Republicans apparently suffering more thereby. Sheehan, for lieutenant governor, runs slightly behind Flower, but is elected by a good majority.

In Brooklyn, Boody, Democratic candidate for mayor, is elected, with 10,000 majority.

Returns thus far received show some Democratic gains in the legislature.

The election in New York state was for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney general and engineer, also four congressmen to fill vacancies caused by three resignations and one death, for eight judges of the supreme court, for a full senate of thirty-two members and a full assembly of 128 members.

The present state officers are Democrats. The congressmen last elected in the districts where elections were held yesterday were: Democrats 3, Republicans 1.

The last senate consisted of nineteen Republicans and thirteen Democrats, the last assembly of sixty-eight Democrats and sixty Republicans. New York city also voted for local judges, coroners and aldermen, and Brooklyn for mayor and other city officers.

The full vote of the state will be collected on governor and comparison will be made with the vote in 1888. The state is divided into 4910 election districts. Of this number 887 are in New York city and 670 in Kings county. The new election law, which fixes the maximum of 400 voters to an election district, has greatly increased the number of districts over 1888, when the total for the state was 3306.

There is no doubt that the Democrats have carried the Tenth and Twelfth congressional districts.

At midnight last night returns from Brooklyn showed that the Democrats had elected their mayor, one congressman, their entire city and county ticket, seven aldermen at large, eight district aldermen, the civil justices and five supervisors. The Republicans claim that the silk stocking element of their party gave their support to Boody, a banker, and thereby defeated the German grocer, Henry A. Meyer.

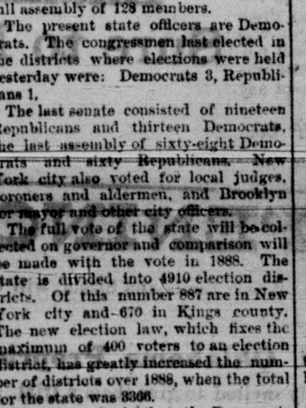
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The latest indications are that Flower's majority will be 40,000 in the state and the entire Democratic state ticket elected. In this case Flower's plurality was 58,845, a Democratic loss of 10,000 compared with the vote for Hill. The Democrats gained several senators and assemblymen and the legislature is Democratic by eight majority.

Later returns show the Democrats elected fourteen senators and the Republicans fourteen, with four districts to hear from, three of which are probably Democratic and one Republican.

Complete returns from Kings county give Mr. Flower 16,185 plurality and Boody, Democrat, is elected mayor of Brooklyn by 7800 majority.

Massachusetts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—In Massachusetts the contest was evenly balanced, Boston gave Russell for governor about



WILLIAM E. RUSSELL.

14,000 majority, while outside of the hub the Republicans gained considerably over the vote of last year. The Democrats won, however, re-electing Russell by over 4000 majority.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—For lieutenant governor Haile and the balance of the Republican state ticket is elected by ample pluralities. The senate will be Republican. Complete returns from 187 members of the house give 95 Republicans and 45 Democrats. Governor Russell claims his election by about 5000 majority. He says it means that Massachusetts is earnestly for tariff reform on free raw material and aggressively in favor of sound currency.

New Jersey.

TRENTON, Nov. 4.—The Democrats [illegible] majority on both branches of the legislature. At the political headquarters of the Democrats in this city, the claim is made that Democratic senators have been elected in Hudson, Hunter, Middlesex and Sussex counties. The Democrats also claim to have elected forty assemblymen in the state.

Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—The city of Philadelphia with one ward to hear from gives Gregg, Republican, for auditor general, 28,160 plurality. Forty two counties out of 66 in the state, exclusive of Philadelphia, give Gregg 24,693 plurality. Morrison, Republican, for state treasurer, ran about even with Gregg. Gregg now has 52,873 plurality which will be materially increased. For city treasurer, McCreary with a missing ward to hear from, has 20,905 majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Complete figures from every county in the state show a plurality of 58,899 for Gregg, Republican, for auditor general and 53,764 plurality for Morrison, Republican, for state treasurer.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 4.—The novelty of the Australian system has made the count very slow. Eight precincts of Omaha give Bemis, Republican, for mayor, 600 majority, with indications that he has carried the city by from 2000 to 2500.

Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—The Republicans have made a clean sweep in Ohio, electing McKinley and the entire ticket by over 17,000 majority and capturing both branches of the legislature. Chairman Neal of the Democratic State committee concedes McKinley's election by 15,000. "We are snowed under," he said. "The Republicans have the legislature, too, but I cannot tell what majority."

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—The chairman of the Republican committee claims McKinley's plurality will be between 19,000 and 21,000, and the general assembly will be 87 Republicans on joint ballot. The People's party lost heavily, while the Prohibitionists lost 7000 votes from last year.

Iowa.

DES MOINES, Nov. 4.—At 1 o'clock this morning scattering returns through the state indicate that Boies is elected governor over Wheeler, Republican, by a reduced plurality. The vote will be very close, however, and the Democrati: plurality is not likely to be over 2300 votes.

DES MOINES, Nov. 6.—From all counties heard from the indications are that Boies will have 8000 to 11,000 majority in the state. The balance of the Democratic ticket is probably elected, with a majority of 3000 to 4000. The senate is surely Democratic unless the Democrats should lose in districts somewhere not yet reported. In the house the Republicans will probably have three majority. The contest just closed was the closest and most active ever held in the state. The total vote polled is 425,000, a larger one than has ever been polled before.

Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 4.—Reports received from various parts of the state indicate that the election passed off quietly. The counting of ballots is not rapid. There is, however, no doubt of the election of Judge Helm, Republican, to the chief justiceship.

DENVER, Nov. 6.—Judge Helm has been chosen chief justice by from 7000 to 10,000 majority. Partial returns from sixteen election districts in this county give the Republicans the entire ticket by majorities ranging from 1371 to 3987. With the exception of Lake and Lasanimas counties the Republicans elected their entire ticket in every county in the state.

Kansas.

TOPEKA, Nov. 4.—Nine district judges were voted for in Kansas yesterday and in each of the 106 counties the following officers: Treasurer, clerk, sheriff, register of deeds, surveyor, coroner and one county commissioner. It was evident at 11 o'clock last night that there had been Republican gains in every county in the state. The assertion that the Alliance has lost strength is verified. The Republicans have carried the majority of counties in Kansas. In the judicial districts the returns indicate that the Alliance has met a wholesale defeat. The Republicans and Democrats combined against the Alliance candidates for judges and voted either Republican or Democratic nominee, whichever was the stronger.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6.—Returns from Kansas indicate that the People's party has lost prestige. The Republicans probably elected eight of the ten district judges.

Virginia.

RICHMOND, Nov. 4.—Returns indicate a gain of three members in the lower house for the Democrats. The Democrats elected sixteen members without opposition. The Democrats claim every senatorial district. The Democrats will have at least four-fifths of the house. Two Alliance candidates and one straightout Republican have been elected to the house. The Democrats will have a large independent working majority in the next legislature.

Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4.—Frank Brown, the Democratic candidate for governor, has a majority between 25,000 and 30,000 as figured at Democratic headquarters.

Cook County.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns show the entire Republican ticket elected in Cook county, with majorities of from 7000 to 14,000. The only Democrat elected was Lyman E. Cooley, drainage trustee. Every man indorsed by the American or Know-Nothing party was elected.

Congressmen Elected.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—In the Fifth Michigan district Charles E. Belknap, Republican, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Lord, a Democrat.

In the Twenty-second New York district N. M. Curtis, Republican, defeated W. A. Porter, Democrat.

In the Second South Dakota district John G. Jolly, Republican, was elected by about 4000 majority.

In the Second New York district Alfred Chopin, Democrat, defeated Henry Bristol, Republican.

In the Tenth New York district Bourke Cochran, a Tammany Democrat, defeated James B. Townsend, Republican, for the seat vacated by the death of General Spinola.

Joseph L. Little, Tammany Democrat, was elected to succeed Roswell P. Flower, candidate for governor.

New York Legislature.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Democrats and Republicans are both claiming majorities in each of the legislative bodies, but the latest returns of the Associated Press indicate that the senate will stand as follows: Republicans 17, Democrats 14, Independent Republican 1. According to the same returns the assembly will stand: Republicans 60, Democrats 66, and Independent Democrats 2.

The Herald's Say.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Herald says it is convinced of Flower's election, but it will be a sort of boomerang to the Democrats in the presidential campaign and a blessing in disguise to the Republicans.

Grover's Views.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—When seen at his residence on Madison avenue, ex-President Grover Cleveland gave his opinions of the result of Tuesday's election as follows: "Of course every one has a right to put his own construction upon the result and I am not anxious to obtrude my ideas, but it seems to me that some things ought to be no longer doubtful. Any man who thinks tariff reform is a settled and obsolete issue or that the importance of sound and safe money is a question upon which people can be blinded is either willfully wrong or dangerously dull. It seems to me too that Democrats ought to be satisfied that a staunch adherence to the principles of their party does not require abuse of those who show an inclination to help us. I very much regret the defeat of Governor Campbell. He has been a brave and honest official. This and the splendid canvass he made entitled him to success. While the election of Flower, Russell and Boies ought to cause the utmost rejoicing among Democrats, they should not forget that they stand under some obligation to be true to the people, honest in the advocacy of our principles and decent in all things."

Press Opinions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The Post says the election of McKinley means the vindication of the law bearing his name. The Massachusetts victory does not foreshadow the election of the Democratic electoral ticket next year. The re-election of Governor Boies in Iowa is another unanswerable demonstration of Republican folly in adhering to local politics.

The Philadelphia Press says the result is encouraging and proves the strong vitality of the Republican party.

The Philadelphia Enquirer says James G. Blaine can recall every wandering state.

The Baltimore Sun says the elections Tuesday indicate a continuance of the movement that produced such astonishing political results last year.

The Boston Globe says New York in electing Flower ranges herself in the glorious line of states counted upon as sure by the Democrats in the coming fight.

The Blessed Rain.

HOUSTON, Nov. 10.—For the first time in many months rain has fallen over this section. Stock was suffering and dying in southwest Texas. Ranchmen were offering their herds at $2.50 a head, as they were unmarketable and could not go through the winter. At several points high wind and hail is reported, blowing out a large amount of cotton. Still in most sections it will be beneficial to the staple where the top crop is still growing.

A Brutal Manifesto.

SINGAPORE, Nov. 9.—A manifesto ordering the expulsion of all native Christians, the confiscation of their property and the destruction of their churches has been issued.

A Wife Killed at Her Baby's Cradle.

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Nov. —About midnight Saturday Mrs. Williams, wife of the mayor and publisher of the Democrat, was aroused by some noise in her room, and quickly awakening the young lady who was sleeping with her, sprang out of bed and rushed to the crib in which her baby was sleeping. Just as she reached the baby she received a pistol shot which entered just beneath the collar-bone, near the left shoulder. The pistol was so near her body that her garments were burned. She sank to the floor, and the man was seen by her companion to escape through a window which he had raised from the outside and propped up with a stick. The lady is dead and her husband is out in town.

Thirty Natives Buried.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Additional advices received here from Tunis show that thirty natives who were buried by the collapse of a large well undermined by the recent storms and floods have all perished. Rescuing parties which have been at work in hope that some of the buried men might have escaped death have recovered all the bodies.

Mexican Horse Thieves Sent Up.

RIO GRANDE CITY, Nov. 9.—At this term of the district court six Mexican horse thieves were tried. They have been sentenced to terms from two to five years. Most of them had no money and no attorneys to defend them.

Unlawful Traffic.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 9.—The Federal grand jury in session here has fully determined, as far as possible, to break up the extensive smuggling business that is being carried on along the Rio Grande border. A number of indictments were returned against this class of offenders, and in court five Mexicans were sentenced to terms of from three months to two years imprisonment for engaging in the unlawful traffic.

Verdict of Homicide.

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—The jury in the case of the state against Muelly, brought here two years ago on a change of venue from Laredo, returned a verdict of homicide and fixed his punishment at five years in the penitentiary. Muelly was charged with the murder of one Danglars at Laredo some three or four years ago. The first trial resulted in a verdict of twenty-five years in the penitentiary. A new trial was granted on a technicality, with the result of the recent finding.

Held Up a Street Car.

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—A car on the San Jacinto line of the Dallas Consolidated Traction company was held up and robbed by an unknown man Thursday night. The car left the Windsor hotel on time and proceeded to Shady View park. A short distance beyond the park a white man boarded the car, which was unoccupied, and presenting a pistol at the driver's head, told him to deliver the contents of the cash box. The driver obeyed, and the robber secured $5 or $6 and left the car. The driver was forced to break the glass of the box.

Fish Hatcheries.

GALVESTON, Nov. 9.—United States Fish Commissioner Marshall McDonald arrived in this city Monday. He was accompanied by Professors T. J. Zouville and B. M. Everman of the fisheries commission. The visitors are making an examination of the Gulf coast in the neighborhood of this city for the purpose of establishing fish hatcheries. Commissioner McDonald stated that under the provisions of the sundry civil bill introduced by Congressman Sayers of this state at the last session of congress an extensive fish hatchery was directed to be built and operated on the Texas coast. The commissioner returned to Washington Wednesday leaving Profs. Zouville and Everman to continue the investigation of fish resources and report to him. The extensive development of oysters and salt water fish, together with a large system of ponds for the propagation of fresh water fish, will be the object of the hatchery. The commissioner expressed himself confident of the success of the fish packeries established at this city, and stated the Gulf should supply the western trade as far north as Montana. The results of the present investigation will be reported to the next meeting of congress for action. The steamer Fish Hawk now used by the commission in Cheesehead bay will be sent through an exhaustive investigation of Galveston bay during the winter, in connection with the investigations of the experts now at work. It is contemplated that the hatcheries to be established in this vicinity will equal those in any other part of the United States.

What They Discovered.

KINGFISHER, O. T., Nov. 9.—A party of surveyors who have just returned from the country south of here report a ghastly find on a claim. Their attention was attracted by the fluttering of a piece of cloth on a bush on the side of a rocky hill, and an investigation showed that murder had been done. A skeleton was found lying near the bush, and when picked up two bullets dropped to the ground. One had been imbedded in the bone of the right leg, which was broken, while the other had gone through the body, breaking two ribs and lodging in the bones of the spine. There was nothing about the place that would indicate who the man was, as everything had been carried off except the bones. It was evident that he had been left for dead, but had recovered consciousness and crawled to the bush and hung the rag on it as a signal of distress, and then died a lingering death, probably of starvation. The claim on which the body was found was a fairly good one, but few improvements had been made thereon, indicating that the murder had been committed soon after the opening of the territory. An investigation into the filing on the ground showed that it had been done by a German named William Strumph, but whether the man who filed was murdered or whether he had committed the deed and fled the country it is impossible to surmise. No one knew such a man and it is impossible to get a description of him. The bones were buried and the place marked for future reference.

Troops to Eject Boomers.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 31.—Four detachments of cavalry have been sent out over the Cherokee strip to eject all boomers and confiscate all cattle. As soon as the strip is clear they will go into winter quarters there and keep it clear.

A Slight Earthquake.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 28.—About 10 o'clock Monday a slight earthquake tremor was felt at Summerville. In this city a few people also felt it, but the tremor was so insignificant that it was deemed unworthy of note.

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

Flower in New York and Maj. McKinley in Ohio.

AGAIN IT IS GOVERNOR RUSSELL

In Massachusetts Boies of Iowa "Got There in Fine Shape"—Pennsylvania Is Decidedly Republican—Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey Are Democratic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The latest election returns from New York state indicate the election of Flower for governor by a majority of at least 20,000. His majority in this city is fully 58,000. The vote of the city and throughout the state fell off considerably as compared with the last gubernatorial election, the Republicans apparently suffering more thereby. Sheehan, for lieutenant governor, runs slightly behind Flower, but is elected by a good majority.

In Brooklyn, Boody, Democratic candidate for mayor, is elected, with 10,000 majority.

Returns thus far received show some Democratic gains in the legislature.

The election in New York state was for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney general and engineer, also four congressmen to fill vacancies caused by three resignations and one death, for eight judges of the supreme court, for a full senate of thirty-two members and a full assembly of 128 members.

The present state officers are Democrats. The congressmen last elected in the districts where elections were held yesterday were: Democrats 3, Republicans 1.

The last senate consisted of nineteen Republicans and thirteen Democrats, the last assembly of sixty-eight Democrats and sixty Republicans. New York city also voted for local judges, coroners and aldermen, and Brooklyn for mayor and other city officers.

The full vote of the state will be collected on governor and comparison will be made with the vote in 1888. The state is divided into 4910 election districts. Of this number 887 are in New York city and 670 in Kings county. The new election law, which fixes the maximum of 400 voters to an election district, has greatly increased the number of districts over 1888, when the total for the state was 3306.

There is no doubt that the Democrats have carried the Tenth and Twelfth congressional districts.

At midnight last night returns from Brooklyn showed that the Democrats had elected their mayor, one congressman, their entire city and county ticket, seven aldermen at large, eight district aldermen, the civil justices and five supervisors. The Republicans claim that the silk stocking element of their party gave their support to Boody, a banker, and thereby defeated the German grocer, Henry A. Meyer.

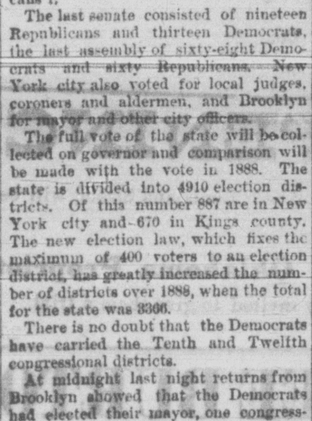
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The latest indications are that Flower's majority will be 40,000 in the state and the entire Democratic state ticket elected. In this city Flower's plurality was 58,845, a Democratic loss of 10,000 compared with the vote for Hill. The Democrats gained several senators and assemblymen and the legislature is Democratic by eight majority.

Later returns show the Democrats elected fourteen senators and the Republicans fourteen, with four districts to hear from, three of which are probably Democratic and one Republican.

Complete returns from Kings county give Mr. Flower 16,185 plurality and Boody, Democrat, is elected mayor of Brooklyn by 7800 majority.

Massachusetts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—In Massachusetts the contest was evenly balanced, Boston gave Russell for governor about



WILLIAM E. RUSSELL.

14,000 majority, while outside of the hub the Republicans gained considerably over the vote of last year. The Democrats won, however, re-electing Russell by over 4000 majority.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—For lieutenant governor Hails and the balance of the Republican state ticket is elected by ample pluralities. The senate will be Republican. Complete returns from 127 members of the house give 93 Republicans and 45 Democrats. Governor Russell claims his election by about 6000 majority. He says it means that Massachusetts is earnestly for tariff reform on free raw material and aggressively in favor of sound currency.

New Jersey.

TRENTON, Nov. 4.—The Democrats will have a majority in both branches of the legislature. At the political headquarters of the Democrats in this city, the claim is made that Democratic senators have been elected in Hudson, Hunter, Middlesex and Sussex counties. The Democrats also claim to have elected forty assemblymen in the state.

Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—The city of Philadelphia with one ward to hear from gives Gregg, Republican, for auditor general, 28,160 plurality. Forty two counties out of 66 in the state, exclusive of Philadelphia, give Gregg 24,693 plurality. Morrison, Republican, for state treasurer, ran about even with Gregg. Gregg now has 52,873 plurality which will be materially increased. For city treasurer, McCreary with a missing ward to hear from, has 20,905 majority.

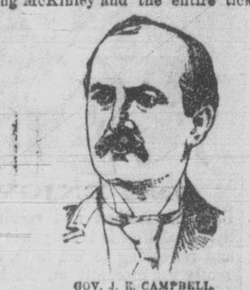
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Complete figures from every county in the state show a plurality of 58,899 for Gregg, Republican, for auditor general and 56,764 plurality for Morrison, Republican, for state treasurer.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 4.—The novelty of the Australian system has made the count very slow. Eight precincts of Omaha give Bemis, Republican, for mayor, 600 majority, with indications that he has carried the city by from 2000 to 2500.

Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—The Republicans have made a clean sweep in Ohio, electing McKinley and the entire ticket by



GOV. J. E. CAMPBELL.

over 17,000 majority and capturing both branches of the legislature. Chairman Neal of the Democratic State committee concedes McKinley's election by 15,000. "We are snowed under," he said. "The Republicans have the legislature, too, but I cannot tell what majority."

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—The chairman of the Republican committee claims McKinley's plurality will be between 19,000 and 21,000, and the general assembly will be 37 Republicans on joint ballot. The People's party lost heavily, while the Prohibitionists lost 7000 votes from last year.

Iowa.

DES MOINES, Nov. 4.—At 1 o'clock this morning scattering returns through the state indicate that Boies is elected governor over Wheeler, Republican, by a reduced plurality. The vote will be very close, however, and the Democratic plurality is not likely to be over 2300 votes.

DES MOINES, Nov. 6.—From all counties heard from the indications are that Boies will have 8000 to 11,000 majority in the state. The balance of the Democratic ticket is probably elected, with a majority of 3000 to 4000. The senate is surely Democratic unless the Democrats should lose in districts somewhere not yet reported. In the house the Republicans will probably have three majority. The contest just closed was the closest and most active ever held in the state. The total vote polled is 425,000, a larger one than has ever been polled before.

Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 4.—Reports received from various parts of the state indicate that the election passed off quietly. The counting of ballots is not rapid. There is, however, no doubt of the election of Judge Helm, Republican, to the chief justiceship.

DENVER, Nov. 6.—Judge Helm has been chosen chief justice by from 7000 to 10,000 majority. Partial returns from sixteen election districts in this county give the Republicans the entire ticket by majorities ranging from 1871 to 3937. With the exception of Lake and Lasanimas counties the Republicans elected their entire ticket in every county in the state.

Kansas.

TOPEKA, Nov. 4.—Nine district judges were voted for in Kansas yesterday and in each of the 106 counties the following officers: Treasurer, clerk, sheriff, register of deeds, surveyor, coroner and one county commissioner. It was evident at 11 o'clock last night that there had been Republican gains in every county in the state. The assertion that the Alliance has lost strength is verified. The Republicans have carried the majority of counties in Kansas. In the judicial districts the returns indicate that the Alliance has met a wholesale defeat. The Republicans and Democrats combined against the Alliance candidates for judges and voted either Republican or Democratic nominee, whichever was the strongest.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6.—Returns from Kansas indicate that the People's party has lost heavily. The Republicans probably elected eight of the ten district judges.

Virginia.

RICHMOND, Nov. 4.—Returns indicate a gain of three members in the lower house for the Democrats. The Democrats elected sixteen members without opposition. The Democrats claim every senatorial district. The Democrats will have at least four-fifths of the house. Two Alliance candidates and one straightout Republican have been elected to the house. The Democrats will have a large independent working majority in the next legislature.

Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4.—Frank Brown, the Democratic candidate for governor, has a majority between 25,000 and 30,000 as figured at Democratic headquarters.

Cook County.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns show the entire Republican ticket elected in Cook county, with majorities of from 7000 to 14,000. The only Democrat elected was Lyman E. Cooley, drainage trustee. Every man indorsed by the American or Know-Nothing party was elected.

Congressmen Elected.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—In the Fifth Michigan district Charles E. Belknap, Republican, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Lord, a Democrat.

In the Twenty-second New York district N. M. Curtis, Republican, defeated W. A. Porter, Democrat.

In the Second South Dakota district John G. Jolly, Republican, was elected by about 4000 majority.

In the Second New York district Alfred Chopin, Democrat, defeated Henry Bristol, Republican.

In the Tenth New York district Bourke Cochran, a Tammany Democrat, defeated James B. Townsend, Republican, for the seat vacated by the death of General Spinola.

Joseph L. Little, Tammany Democrat, was elected to succeed Roswell P. Flower, candidate for governor.

New York Legislature.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Democrats and Republicans are both claiming majorities in each of the legislative bodies, but the latest returns of the Associated Press indicate that the senate will stand as follows: Republicans 17, Democrats 14, Independent Republican 1. According to the same returns the assembly will stand: Republicans 60, Democrats 66, and Independent Democrats 2.

The Herald's Say.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Herald says it is convinced of Flower's election, but it will be a sort of boomerang to the Democrats in the presidential campaign and a blessing in disguise to the Republicans.

Grover's Views.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—When seen at his residence on Madison avenue, ex-President Grover Cleveland gave his opinions of the result of Tuesday's election as follows: "Of course every one has a right to put his own construction upon the result and I am not anxious to obtrude my ideas, but it seems to me that some things ought to be no longer doubtful. Any man who thinks tariff reform is a settled and obsolete issue or that the importance of sound and safe money is a question upon which people can be blinded is either willfully wrong or dangerously dull. It seems to me too that Democrats ought to be satisfied that a staunch adherence to the principles of their party does not require abuse of those who show an inclination to help us. I very much regret the defeat of Governor Campbell. He has been a brave and honest official. This and the splendid canvass he made entitled him to success. While the election of Flower, Russell and Boies ought to cause the utmost rejoicing among Democrats, they should not forget that they stand under some obligation to be true to the people, honest in the advocacy of our principles and decent in all things."

Press Opinions.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The Post says the election of McKinley means the vindication of the law bearing his name. The Massachusetts victory does not foreshadow the election of the Democratic electoral ticket next year. The re-election of Governor Boies in Iowa is another unanswerable demonstration of Republican folly in adhering to local politics.

The Philadelphia Press says the result is encouraging and proves the strong vitality of the Republican party.

The Philadelphia Enquirer says James G. Blaine can recall every wandering state.

The Baltimore Sun says the elections Tuesday indicate a continuance of the movement that produced such astonishing political results last year.

The Boston Globe says New York in electing Flower ranges herself in the glorious line of states counted upon as sure by the Democrats in the coming fight.

The Blessed Rain.

HOUSTON, Nov. 10.—For the first time in many months rain has fallen over this section. Stock was suffering and dying in southwest Texas. Ranchmen were offering their herds at $2.50 a head, as they were unmarketable and could not go through the winter. At several points high wind and hail is reported, blowing out a large amount of cotton. Still in most sections it will be beneficial to the staple where the top crop is still growing.

A Brutal Manifesto.

SINGAPORE, Nov. 9.—A manifesto ordering the expulsion of all native Christians, the confiscation of their property and the destruction of their churches has been issued.

A Wife Killed at Her Baby's Cradle.

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Nov. —About midnight Saturday Mrs. Williams, wife of the mayor and publisher of the Democrat, was aroused by some noise in her room, and quickly awakening the young lady who was sleeping with her, sprang out of bed and rushed to the crib in which her baby was sleeping. Just as she reached the baby she received a pistol shot which entered just beneath the collar-bone, near the left shoulder. The pistol was so near her body that her garments were burned. She sank to the floor, and the man was seen by her companion to escape through a window which he had raised from the outside and propped up with a stick. The lady is dead and her husband is not in town.

Thirty Natives Buried.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Additional advices received here from Tunis show that thirty natives who were buried by the collapse of a large well undermined by the recent storms and floods have all perished. Rescuing parties which have been at work in hope that some of the buried men might have escaped death have recovered all the bodies.

Mexican Horse Thieves Sent Up.

RIO GRANDE CITY, Nov. 9.—At this term of the district court six Mexican horse thieves were tried. They have been sentenced to terms from two to five years. Most of them had no money and no attorneys to defend them.

Unlawful Traffic.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 9.—The Federal grand jury in session here has fully determined, as far as possible, to break up the extensive smuggling business that is being carried on along the Rio Grande border. A number of indictments were returned against this class of offenders, and in court five Mexicans were sentenced to terms of from three months to two years imprisonment for engaging in the unlawful traffic.

Verdict of Homicide.

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—The jury in the case of the state against Muelly, brought here two years ago on a change of venue from Laredo, returned a verdict of homicide and fixed his punishment at five years in the penitentiary. Muelly was charged with the murder of one Danglars at Laredo some three or four years ago. The first trial resulted in a verdict of twenty-five years in the penitentiary. A new trial was granted on a technicality, with the result of the recent finding.

Held Up a Street Car.

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—A car on the San Jacinto line of the Dallas Consolidated Traction company was held up and robbed by an unknown man Thursday night. The car left the Windsor hotel on time and proceeded to Shady View park. A short distance beyond the park a white man boarded the car, which was unoccupied, and presenting a pistol at the driver's head, told him to deliver the contents of the cash box. The driver obeyed, and the robber secured $5 or $6 and left the car. The driver was forced to break the glass of the box.

Fish Hatcheries.

GALVESTON, Nov. 8.—United States Fish Commissioner Marshall McDonald arrived in this city Monday. He was accompanied by Professors T. J. Zouville and B. M. Everman of the fisheries commission. The visitors are making an examination of the Gulf coast in the neighborhood of this city for the purpose of establishing fish hatcheries. Commissioner McDonald stated that under the provisions of the sundry civil bill introduced by Congressman Sayers of this state at the last session of congress an extensive fish hatchery was directed to be built and operated on the Texas coast. The commissioner returned to Washington Wednesday leaving Profs. Zouville and Everman to continue the investigation of fish resources and report to him. The extensive development of oysters and salt water fish, together with a large system of ponds for the propagation of fresh water fish, will be the object of the hatchery. The commissioner expressed himself confident of the success of the fish packeries established at this city, and stated the Gulf should supply the western trade as far north as Montana. The results of the present investigation will be reported to the next meeting of congress for action. The steamer Fish Hawk now used by the commission in Cheesehead bay will be sent through an exhaustive investigation of Galveston bay during the winter, in connection with the investigations of the experts now at work. It is contemplated that the hatcheries to be established in this vicinity will equal those in any other part of the United States.

What They Discovered.

KINGFISHER, O. T., Nov. 9.—A party of surveyors who have just returned from the country south of here report a ghastly find on a claim. Their attention was attracted by the fluttering of a piece of cloth on a bush on the side of a rocky hill, and an investigation showed that murder had been done. A skeleton was found lying near the bush, and when picked up two bullets dropped to the ground. One had been imbedded in the bone of the right leg, which was broken, while the other had gone through the body, breaking two ribs and lodging in the bones of the spine. There was nothing about the place that would indicate who the man was, as everything had been carried off except the bones. It was evident that he had been left for dead, but had recovered consciousness and crawled to the bush and hung the rag on it as a signal of distress, and then died a lingering death, probably of starvation. The claim on which the body was found was a fairly good one, but few improvements had been made thereon, indicating that the murder had been committed soon after the opening of the territory. An investigation into the filing on the ground showed that it had been done by a German named William Strumph, but whether the man who filed was murdered or whether he had committed the deed and fled the country it is impossible to surmise. No one knew such a man and it is impossible to get a description of him. The bones were buried and the place marked for future reference.

Troops in Kiest Boomers.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 31.—Four detachments of cavalry have been sent out over the Cherokee strip to eject all boomers and confiscate all cattle. As soon as the strip is clear they will go into winter quarters there and keep it clear.

A Slight Earthquake.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 28.—About 1 o'clock Monday a slight earthquake tremor was felt at Summerville. In this city a few people also felt it, but the tremor was so insignificant that it was deemed unworthy of note.

Wants a Sermon Preached.

ANNA, Nov. 9, 1891.

Editor Democrat:

The long continued sunshine which has been so favorable to the farmer in gathering his crop was suddenly broken Sunday afternoon by a sharp wind and rain storm, which blew down the art gallery lately put up at this place, doing damage to the same to the amount of not less than $100.

It is feared that the cotton not picked is very badly damaged. One was heard to say, I have five bales in the field which I offered to take $25 for, now I will take $5.

How does Texas and Kansas democracy compare? Anything to down the farmers' demands.

To-day we had the pleasure of being once more greeted by the ever welcome sunshine, much sooner than expected.

In Texas everybody is kicked out of the good old democratic party, who favors the sub-treasury plan. In Kansas everybody, the democrat, devil and all, who oppose the sub-treasury, vote together. A close observation shows the condition of the farmers, after a bountiful crop and close economy to be a great big little behind.

Everything is all right.

Say, have you heard of the grand re-union in Kansas? What loving fraternity, the gray and blue walking hand in hand to the polls and voting for the r-e-p-u-b-l-i-c-a-n-s.

This neighborhood is to soon lose several highly esteemed citizens, among whom are G. A. C. Ray, W. B. Shaw and R. J. Armstrong. Mr. J. Brown is is also talking of going away, but it is the opinion of the writer that Buddie's girl won't let him go.

The Topeka (Kas) Democrat says, the news of the elections to-day will be received all over the country with delight by both democrats and republicans. So will N. W. Finley's ruling by the same class in the same manner.

It is common to hear the planters saying, "I am not going to put in any cotton next year," wheat in a great many places taking its place. Next year wheat will be 40 to 60 cents per bushel.

Less Cotton More Fine Stock.

McKinney, Tex.—[To the News]—The Texas cotton-raiser is well pleased with the way the cotton is turning out, but he is far from being satisfied with the low prices, 6 to 7 cents, the fleecy staple is bringing on an average at this time. He says after paying the cost of raising and marketing a 500-pound Texas bale of cotton only $12 10 for his labor remains, i. e., averaging one-third of a bale to the acre throughout the state. He asks for relief, and the man who is wise enough to devise some plan that the farmers as a class will adopt will be regarded as a great benefactor. Daniel Webster, in a great speech in Faneul hall. Boston, to a large assemblage of laborers and mechanics, said that the man who made the best plow in America was a greater benefactor to his country at large than he, Daniel Webster, who it was said had done much good legislation in behalf of his countrymen. A Moses is needed to lead us out of the wilderness of "over-production" that is staring us in the face. The "old cotton planter," if not treading on somebody's corns, would be a pioneer in blazing the way for partial relief, as a starter, would advise every farmer who is unfortunate enough not to be a married man, and capable of raising boys and girls enough to pick the cotton and raise bacon, poultry and an abundance of nice vegetables sufficient to feed them on the farm, to abandon cotton culture nowadays and seek something like fine graded stock and grain raising as a more profitable investment. There is no use any longer to plant all cotton to buy all supplies, that can be raised at home. It is not safe or wise to keep all our eggs in one basket. "He who goes a borrowing goes a sorrowing."

OLD COTTON PLANTER.

As the above worthy correspondent seems interested in the welfare of the great producing masses, we presume he will allow us the privilege of criticising part of the above article The main point we wish to refer to is, the writer's idea of advising men without families to raise fine stock, grain, etc., and leave the cotton industry to men of families who can place their children, sons and daughters, in the cotton patch. This alone is one of the great curses of "King Cotton." Children of the fair Southland, of all ages, are compelled to work in the fields, causing them to grow up in ignorance which unarms them for the great battle of life.

Deprived of an education and clothed with poverty they become the unwilling victims of greed—subject to the heartless cruelties of the more favored class.

We believe with the writer that less cotton should be raised, but we protest against shouldering the burden on the young and tender youths of our land, whose young lives should be trained in the school room and not blighted by premature toil.

Upon the subject of "overproduction" we would say that if there is an over-production of the necessities of life (which we seriously doubt) the producer should, at least, enjoy its benefits and not be subject to the exacting power of avarice and greed.

THE COMING DAY.

An Aged Pilgrim's Experience.

By Uncle Jesse.

Illinois S. H, Nov. 7, '91

Editor Democrat:

"The crowning day is coming by and by." Life, with its troubles, trials and vicissitudes, is sometimes weigthy on the shoulders of the pilgrim time worn and weary. The dark shadows of adversity, now and then hover o'er our pathway like fog around the steamer as she plows the mighty main, our prospect for the future is sometimes gloomy and our looks are down cast and we, like the poet, are want to exclaim, "I would not live always, I ask not to stay," in the midst of these troubles our hearts beat gladly when we remember the promise that "The crowning day is coming by and by."

The Knights, of Aesculapian persuasion, generally see both sides of life, they who treat king and peasant, prince and pauper; they who visit the domiciles of men, from the grand mansion with its wealth, to the squalid hut with its wretched surroundings; they who are called to battle with death for supremacy over the victim, and to raise the dead, see a lonely time and their pathway is somewhat variegated. To such we will say weep not dear brethren for "The crowning day is coming by and by." To those who still labor under the curse pronounced up on Adam, at his expulsion from the garden of Eden, who endure, alike the rain and sunshine, heat and cold, who labor with ceaseless energy and tired limbs, who have borne the heat and burden of the day for many weary years without just recompense of reward, who have rendered unto Caesar what was Caesar's, who have borne oppression from every hand for years without a murmur, who have bowed the knee in all humbleness and fervency and prayed "Our common Father who art in Wall street, monopoly be thy name," to these knights of the "grip," claiming a regular line of Edenic successions, we say be firm and "keep cool" for a note of warning has been sounded and the Nations have heard that "The crowning day is coming by and by."

The weary ones who are tired of life and its struggle, who have born up well during the heat of the conflict, who have laid to rest their loved ones, who stand as the aged oak of the forest that has been striped of its beauty and verdure by the tempests of many winters, whose locks have been whitened by the frost of many seasons, whose eyes are dim and whose hearts are torn and bleeding, their wrinkled brow showing traces of many troubles and sorrows that have passed across the once fair face, he, who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, speaks peace be still for "the crowning day is coming by and by."

"Well, well, well," remarked an aged pilgrim recently, "I've lived nigh on to eighty year' and I've never seed sich doins as the world is guilty of today. Why, when I were a boy we had meetin' in a log house with punchin seats as the preacher stood behind a chur while he talked and got right down on his knees while he prayed, and the congregation sang, 'Praise God from whom all blessings flow, and old 'Cornation', an' the sisters prayed aloud an' we had a good time,' but now things is different. The people have built fine houses, an' cushion cheers for the preacher, a set for sinners an' a organ with a crowd of giglin' youngsters behind it, to make music while the congregation looks on. They even stand up to pray now—to keep from soil in' their breeches an' they make music by the band while some good brother 'bleeds' the people with a small basket tied to a long pole." Said he "old time preachin', prayin', an' singin' has gone out of fashion an' I'm afeered religion went out with it." And when this aged temple of clay gave in his experience at the Sunday evening class meeting he said "like Paul of old he had kept the faith, finished the course and henceforth he was waiting for the master to call him from this mundane sphere to see "the crowning day that's coming by and by."

How hard it is for one to lead an exemplary life—a life free from blame and sin, how hard it is to overcome the evil influences that are thrown around us and along the journey from time to eternity, how hard it is for one to strictly observe the "golden rule" and love "my neighbor as thyself," how hard it is to set aside the sin that doth so easily beset us and run with patience the race that is set before us, how hard it is to love our enemies and to pray earnestly without ceasing and in all things give thanks. In view of these facts let us pray him, who watcheth the sparrow as it falls and numbereth the hairs on our heads, that we may be prepared, at the Sounding of the Trumpet, to arise and enjoy "the crowning day that's coming by and by."

The weary ones who are tired of life and its struggle, who have born up well during the heat of the conflict, who have laid to rest their loved ones, who stand as the aged oak of the forest that has been striped of its beauty and verdure by the tempests of many winters, whose locks have been whitened by the frost of many seasons, whose eyes are dim and whose hearts are torn and bleeding, their wrinkled brow showing traces of many troubles and sorrows that have passed across the once fair face, he, who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, speaks peace be still for "the crowning day is coming by and by."

"Well, well, well," remarked an aged pilgrim recently, "I've lived nigh on to eighty year' and I've never seed sich doins as the world is guilty of today. Why, when I were a boy we had meetin' in a log house with punchin seats as the preacher stood behind a chur while he talked and got right down on his knees while he prayed, and the congregation sang, 'Praise God from whom all blessings flow, and old 'Cornation', an' the sisters prayed aloud an' we had a good time,' but now things is different. The people have built fine houses, an' cushion cheers for the preacher, a set for sinners an' a orgin with a crowd of giglin' youngsters behind it, to make music while the congregation looks on. They even stand up to pray now—to keep from soilin' their breeches an' they make music by the band while some good brother 'bleeds' the people with a small basket tied to a long pole." Said he "old-time preachin', prayin', an' singin' has gone out of fashion an' I'm afeered religion went out with it." And when this aged temple of clay gave in his experience at the Sunday evening class meeting he said "like Paul of old he had kept the faith, finished the course and henceforth he was waiting for the master to call him from this mundane sphere to see "the crowning day that's coming by and by."

How hard it is for one to lead an exemplary life—a life free from blame and sin, how hard it is to overcome the evil influences that are thrown around us and along the journey from time to eternity, how hard it is for one to strictly observe the "golden rule" and love "thy neighbor as thyself," how hard it is to set aside the sin that doth so easily beset us and run with patience the race that is set before us, how hard it is to love our enemies and to pray earnestly without ceasing and in all things give thanks. In view of these facts let us pray him, who watcheth the sparrow as it falls and numbereth the hairs on our heads, that we may be prepared, at the Sounding of the Trumpet, to arise and enjoy "the crowning day that's coming by and by."

THE NEW CANTON STALK CUTTER

We were the first manufacturers to introduce STALK CUTTERS, and have kept abreast of the times with modern IMPROVEMENTS. They are a valuable implement, preparing the ground for plowing and leaving that to be turned under which ENRICHES THE SOIL. The Canton has Spring on front end, connecting with lever, thus relieving the jerking motion from horses' necks, also giving knives a striking motion. This excellent feature is found only in the Canton. It has HIGHEST METAL WHEELS, insuring LIGHTEST DRAFT. Other points of excellence given in circular mailed free to any address. We also manufacture Canton Clipper Plows, Volunteer and Victor Cultivators, Disc Harrows, Tricycle Sulky and Gang Plows, Cotton and Corn Planters, and handle Buggies, Carts, Pumps, Wind Mills, Scientific Grinding Mills, DAIN, COOPER & STERLING WAGONS. LOCAL NEWS.

A. J. Kemp of Fayburgh was in the city yesterday.

Dr. Rucker of Altoga was in the city last Saturday.

Cotton receipts in McKinney yesterday was 550 bales.

The Collin County Medical association met yesterday.

The marshal is working several convicts on the streets.

Judge P. B. Muse came down from Sherman last Saturday.

Mr. John Church and lady were in Farmersville last week.

East Louisiana street was crowded with cotton yesterday.

Louis Miner, colored, aged sixty years, was buried here last Sunday.

We regret to learn that Ed Martin of Viney is suffering with rheumatism.

Those who wish their paper stopped must pay up the amount due to date.

The Messrs. Bears were in the city this week shaking hands with relatives and friends.

John Renois was returned to the city to take a bird's eye view of his nine pound boy.

We understand that the recent local option election at Farmersville is to be contested again.

The commissioner's court made an appropriation towards digging an artesian well in McKinney.

A rumor is afloat that some parties tried to ignite a tank of oil in McKinney last Saturday night.

J. T. Branch of Lucas was in McKinney this week to attend the bedside of a sick grandchild.

Two unknown parties while drunk entered the New Hope school house last Sunday and broke up two stoves.

A false fire alarm was sounded last night. Some one had fired some rubbish near the depot and raised the alarm.

Two freight cars were wrecked just north of Plano one day last week, caused by a broken axle. No one was hurt.

Sheriff Phillips jailed a young man by the name of Smith last Sunday charged with stealing a $35 saddle.

Hundreds of people drags along through the weary summer months their lives made miserably by chills and fever and who could be well and happy if they would only take Cheatham's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It never fails to cure and is only 50 and 75 cents per bottle. "No cure, no pay."

It is getting very dry and dusty at this writing and we suggest that it is a very convenient time for the artesian well committee to get in its work.

McKinney is full up with cotton. Never within the history of our city has there been so much cotton on hand at one time.

The thought of a fire in McKinney is distressing at this time. The need of better water facilities is impressively apparent.

Messrs. W. H. Brummett and T. W. McBride, together with their families moved from Nevada to Archer county last week.

Many old soldiers, who contracted chronic diarrhoe while in the service, have since been permanently cured of it by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Bristol Bros.

Miss Mabel Loonsy visited her home in Farmersville last Friday and Saturday and returned Sunday.

We are thankful to the following named gentlemen for subscription paid this week: J. D. Grayum, J. F. Ragsdale. Thos. Holloway, J. C. Thomas, D. F. Forshee, Jas. S. Howard, R. M. McDonald, G. W. Cantrell, I. M. Smith W. A. Jackson and J. F. Cave.

Its Excellent Qualities

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye, and to the taste and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bawels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it

R. H. Thompson, whose law card appears in the Democrat, made a trip to Lebanon yesterday on legal business. He is a courteous gentleman of ability who gives careful attention to all business entrusted to him.

Henry Herndon is a rustler on the artesian well committee. The prospects are that McKinney will yet have a splendid flow of water in spite of a few men of property who are unwilling to donate in an enterprise which would prove a good investment to them. The Democrat is not a wealthy institution, but it proposes to keep up as near as possible with the procession.

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but unmistakable language for the benefit of the public. "One of my children took a severe cold and got the croup. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her one more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep and slept good for fifteen minutes. Then she got up and vomited; then she went back to bed and slept good for the remaider of the night. She got the croup the second night and I gave her the same remedy with the same good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the same need and not know the true merits of this wonderful medicine." Charles A. Thompsoen, Des Moines, Iowa. 50 cent bottles for sale by Bristol Bros.

Serious Gin Accident.

A serious accident occurred at White & Hill's gin in the western part of the county at 2 o'clock p. m. on Thursday last in which a young man by the name of Will Vance lost his life. Young Vance was down in the baling box tramping cotton when the lint above him caught fire. The flames of course enveloped him. His screaming was heard nearly a mile distant and the hands hurried to his assistance who succeeded in a very brief moment of time in getting him out, but not before his flesh was burned in a horrible manner, which caused his death within twelve hours. The gin and contents were not damaged. It is supposed that a stray match in passing through with the cotton became ignited and did the fatal mischief,

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen such a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure, Taken internally.

Scalded to Death.

On last Thursday little Allen Benjamin, son of Mr. R. L. Waddell was playing around the washing place when he fell in some boiling water, from the effects of which the little fellow died on Friday. The remains were followed to Pecan Grove cemetery on Saturday by a large concourse of mourning friends of the family.

Marriage Bells.

The following marriage licenses have been issued by county clerk Keen, since our last report:

R. F. Clark and Mary Killian, R. M. Trotter and M. B Lewellen, J. A. Avant and Georgia Saxon, Geo. E. Calton and Mollie A. Griffin.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cents to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not bi without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Bristol Bros.

Married.

Capt. T. F. Mangum and Miss Alice Fitzhugh, both of McKinney, were married at the residence of W. T. Beverly last evening. The Democrat extends congratulations and wishes for them a long life of usefulness and prosperity.

Sudden Death

Heart disease is by far the most frequent cause of sudden death, which in three out of four cases is unsuspected. The symptoms are not generally understood. There are: a habi of lying on the right side, short breath, pain or distress in side back, or shoulder irregular pulse, asthma, weak and hungry spells, wind in stomach swelling of ankles or dropsy, oppression, dry cough and smothering. Dr. Miles' illustrated book on Heart Disease, free at Smith Bros. Drug store who sell and guarantee Dr Miles unequaled New Heart Cure, and his Restorative Nervine, which cures nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, effects of drinking, etc. It contains no opiates.

Startling Facts.

The American people ar rapidly becoming a race of nervous wrecks, and the following suggests the best remedy: Alphonso Hemphillig, of Butler, Pa., swears that when his son was speechless from St Vitus dance Dr. Miles' great Restorative Nervine cured him. Mrs. J. R Miller of Valparaiso, and J. D. Taylor of Logansport, Ind., each gained 20 pounds from taking it. Mrs. H. A. Gardner, of Vistula Ind., was cured of from 40 to 50 convulsions a day and much headache, dizziness, backache and nervousness prostration by one bottle. Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by E. N. McAuley & Bro. drug store.

Who Is the Fool?

Laboring Man—Mr. Banker, I want to deposit $100 for a year; what interest do you pay?

Banker—If you leave it a full year I will give you 4 per cent.

L. M.—All right, give me the check.

B.—Certainly, my noble fellow, here it is.

L. M.—Now, I guess that I can loan some money out here to a farmer, and at a good percentage, and as you are paying me four dollars for the use of my $100 I will leave this check with you as security, and I want you to lend me ninety dollars on it at 1 per cent. per annum.

B.—We don't do that kind of business. You must think we are fools to let you have money and then pay you for the privilege of doing so.

L. M.—Is that the name you call fellows who do that kind of business? Why, old fellow, that is what Uncle Sam has been doing for you these many years past. Do you mean to say that he is a fool?—Farmers' Gazette.

It cures foot rot, shoulder rot, screw worm and scab in sheep.

Cures harness sores, spavins, swinney, wind galls and nearly all diseases peculiar to horses and mules.

Cures hollow horn, caked bags, grub and hoof disease in cattle.

It penetrates the muscle, membrane and tissue of man and beast; heals old sores, cures eruptions and every kind of inflammation, and can be applied as an ointment to tender parts. Keep it for emergencies, read the directions and use it in time. Remember this is not an experiment. MUSTANG LINIMENT has been known for years and has the endorsement of thousands. There is nothing like it.

For sale everywhere at 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per bottle.

Going Back on the Old Party.

Colonel Scott was driving down town a few mornings since; he proffered a seat to a well dressed gentleman, who accepted, and in the course of the ride remarked that his home was in Kansas, that he had been in the city on business for a few days and expected to return home that day. Thinking the occasion a good one for learning something of the political situation in that state, the colonel asked him whether or not it was true that the Kansas Alliance men were going back to the old parties this year, as the Iowa papers were claiming? The gentleman gave a disgusted snort, and said, "I am sorry to say, sir, that there is no ground for the claim; the damn fools beat anything I ever saw; they are twice as strong as they were last year." Further conversation disclosed the fact that the gentleman was a banker and a Republican.—Iowa Tribune.

Celestials Caught.

EL PASO, Oct. 31.—C. S. Irvin, special agent of the United States treasury, boarded the Santa Fe train just as it was about to leave for the north and took three Chinamen therefrom. Mr. Irvin said these Chinamen had come across from Mexico. They were put in the county jail pending examination.

LOCAL NEWS.

A. J. Kemp of Fayburgh was in the city yesterday.

Dr. Rucker of Altoga was in the city last Saturday.

Cotton receipts in McKinney yesterday was 550 bales.

The Collin County Medical association met yesterday.

The marshal is working several convicts on the streets.

Judge P. B. Muse came down from Sherman last Saturday.

Mr. John Church and lady were in Farmersville last week.

East Louisiana street was crowded with cotton yesterday.

Louis Miner, colored, aged sixty years, was buried here last Sunday.

We regret to learn that Ed Martin of Viney is suffering with rheumatism.

Those who wish their paper stopped must pay up the amount due to date.

The Messrs. Bears were in the city this week shaking hands with relatives and friends.

John Rennis was returned to the city to take a bird's eye view of his nine pound boy.

We understand that the recent local option election at Farmersville is to be contested again.

The commissioner's court made an appropriation towards digging an artesian well in McKinney.

A rumor is afloat that some parties tried to ignite a tank of oil in McKinney last Saturday night.

J. T. Branch of Lucas was in McKinney this week to attend the bedside of a sick grandchild.

Two unknown parties while drunk entered the New Hope school house last Sunday and broke up two stoves.

A false fire alarm was sounded last night. Some one had fired some rubbish near the depot and raised the alarm.

Two freight cars were wrecked just north of Plano one day last week, caused by a broken axle. No one was hurt.

Sheriff Phillips jailed a young man by the name of Smith last Sunday charged with stealing a $35 saddle.

Hundreds of people drags along through the weary summer months their lives made miserably by chills and fever and who could be well and happy if they would only take Cheatham's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It never fails to cure and is only 50 and 75 cents per bottle. "No cure, no pay."

It is getting very dry and dusty at this writing and we suggest that it is a very convenient time for the artesian well committee to get in its work.

McKinney is full up with cotton. Never within the history of our city has there been so much cotton on hand at one time.

The thoughts of a fire in McKinney is distressing at this time. The need of better water facilities is impressively apparent.

Messrs. W. H. Brummett and T. W. McBride, together with their families moved from Nevada to Archer county last week.

Many old soldiers, who contracted chronic diarrhoe while in the service, have since been permanently cured of it by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Bristol Bros.

The big swing, muscle tester, side show, cheap John and the knife board are now engaging the attention of the public.

For lame back there is nothing better than to saturate a flannel cloth with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on the affected parts. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The same treatment will cure rheumatism. For sale by Bristol Bros.

It is a notorious fact that McKinney is one of the wealthiest cities in North Texas. Yet it lacks many conveniences, which the public is entitled to.

G. F. Albright, county alliance secretary, is now working at the Democrat office. Alliance men who wish to consult him can find him at this office

A good many people are prejudiced against patent medicines because some they have used proved worthless. This is wrong—each remedy like each individual, should be judged upon their own merits, not the merits of others. Cheatham's Tasteless Chill Tonic is a remedy of sterling worth. Be fair and give it a trial. Price 50 and 75 cents. "No cure, no pay."

If owners of business houses would refuse to rent for questionable purposes, legitimate business men would be encouraged and then there would not be so many houses vacant.

We understand from Mayor W. M. Bagley that Valdasta citizens held a mass meeting the other day and resolved to invest in a first-class electric plant and to bore for artesian water at once.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy, a marvelous cure for catarrh diphtheria, canker mouth and headache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal injector for the more successful treatment of these complaints without extra charge. Price 50 cents. Sold by Bristol Bros.

The White's Grove alliance has changed its time of meeting to the first Saturday night at 8 o'clock and the third Saturday evening at 4 o'clock of each month.

J. G. Williams of White's Grove was absent from the Alliance last Saturday night caused by the appearance of a ten-pound boy.

Quinine is unquestionally a good medicine but it has been much abused by the people living in the malarious districts of the South, who fly to it for relief, and continue its use until their nervous system is perverted and their hearing impaired. Cheatham's Tasteless Chill Tonic is more effective, cheaper and entirely harmless. Try it. Price 50 and 75 cents per bottle. "No cure, no pay."

Henry Wright and Ben Washington, both colored, had a fight last Friday in which the former got severely cut in the neck. The trouble occurred over the settlement of an account.

There are a few mossbacks in McKinney who have grown rich by the energy of their fellow men. These same stiff neck gentlemen try to discourage every honest effort to better the condition of our community.

It has been said that a silken cord is fastened to every wayward son and daughter while the other end is entwined around a loving mother's heart in some far-away homestead. In the busy whirl of life, how many young men do we meet even in the city of McKinney, who are disregarding this solemn fact? Temptation with all its glaring paraphernalia is luring them on in spite of the rending of ever loving hearts.

Dr. T. C. Reedy will be in McKinney next Monday and Tuesday. He was charged with mal-practice in Rockwall from which he was honorably discharged by the court at that place. The doctor has many friends in and around McKinney who have full confidence in him.

Miss Mabel Looney visited her home in Farmersville last Friday and Saturday and returned Sunday.

We are thankful to the following named gentlemen for subscription paid this week: J. D. Grayum, J. F. Ragsdale. Thos. Holloway, J. C. Thomas, D. F. Forshee, Jas. S. Howard, R. M. McDonald, G. W. Cantrell, I. M. Smith W. A. Jackson and J. F. Cave.

Its Excellent Qualities

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye, and to the taste and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bawels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it

R. H. Thompson, whose law card appears in the Democrat, made a trip to Lebanon yesterday on legal business. He is a courteous gentleman of ability who gives careful attention to all business entrusted to him.

Henry Herndon is a rustler on the artesian well committee. The prospects are that McKinney will yet have a splendid flow of water in spite of a few men of property who are unwilling to donate in an enterprise which would prove a good investment to them. The Democrat is not a wealthy institution, but it proposes to keep up as near as possible with the procession.

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but unmistakable language for the benefit of the public. "One of my children took a severe cold and got the croup. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her one more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep and slept good for fifteen minutes. Then she got up and vomited; then she went back to bed and slept good for the remaider of the night. She got the croup the second night and I gave her the same remedy with the same good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the same need and not know the true merits of this wonderful medicine." Charles A. Thompsoen, Des Moines, Iowa. 50 cent bottles for sale by Bristol Bros.

Serious Gin Accident.

A serious accident occurred at White & Hill's gin in the western part of the county at 2 o'clock p. m. on Thursday last in which a young man by the name of Will Vance lost his life. Young Vance was down in the baling box tramping cotton when the lint above him caught fire. The flames of course enveloped him. His screaming was heard nearly a mile distant and the hands hurried to his assistance who succeeded in a very brief moment of time in getting him out, but not before his flesh was burned in a horrible manner, which caused his death within twelve hours. The gin and contents were not damaged. It is supposed that a stray match in passing through with the cotton became ignited and did the fatal mischief,

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen such a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,

Going Back on the Old Party.

Colonel Scott was driving down town a few mornings since; he proffered a seat to a well dressed gentleman, who accepted, and in the course of the ride remarked that his home was in Kansas, that he had been in the city on business for a few days and expected to return home that day. Thinking the occasion a good one for learning something of the political situation in that state, the colonel asked him whether or not it was true that the Kansas Alliance men were going back to the old parties this year, as the Iowa papers were claiming? The gentleman gave a disgusted snort, and said, "I am sorry to say, sir, that there is no ground for the claim; the damn fools beat anything I ever saw; they are twice as strong as they were last year." Further conversation disclosed the fact that the gentleman was a banker and a Republican.—Iowa Tribune.

STRAIGHTISM.

Upon the subject of Monopolies we quote the following from the New World, now being published at this office:

MONOPOLIES UNDEMOCRATIC AND NUISANCES.

BY the term MONOPOLY (TRUSTS, as generally spoken of) I mean such a co-operation of individuals and investment or combination of their united capitals or the investment by a single individual of a capital greater than his own (greater than which rightfully belongs to himself), so as to blockade or usurp certain departments of commerce, whereby they are enabled to enhance unjustly, prices respective to commodities, and rates respective to capital, to conveyance, etc., at their discretion.

That monopolies are undemocratic and are nuisances we must infer from the principles of democracy. In Chapter Two I said, "a RIGHT of a person is a just claim, or a claim whose exercise conveys no evil or injury upon other persons or upon the respective person; and LIBERTY the privilege secured to each and every person to have and exercise such rights." It is then to be seen that democracy permits persons to engage in all business pursuances which confers services, and that will not encroach one-an other; but will not permit the contrary. As: persons, singly or conjointly, are permitted, without encroaching others, to buy land, produce whatever they may choose, and to sell it at the highest prices they are capable of obtaining; are permitted, without encroaching others, to erect manufacturing establishments, manufacture commodities at will, and sell them at the highest prices the markets will afford; are permitted, without encroaching others, to buy various commodities or property and again sell thereafter and make by their transactions as much profit as they can; are permitted, without encroaching others, to lend out land or other property or any wealth whatever and obtain as high rents or rates as they can get; etc. On the contrary, a body of individuals are not permitted to buy all the land there is for mere purpose of predominance, whereby they are enabled to usurp exorbitant rents; are not permitted to buy all the farming produce of a certain kind, whereby they are enabled to enhance the prices beyond what is right; and so are not permitted to buy all the commodity whatever of a certain kind, whereby they are enabled to enhance unjustly the prices thereof; are not permitted to attain and retain any noteworthy part of the monetary medium, whereby they are enabled to fix unjustly, at their own discretion, the value or rates respectively; etc.: for this would be taking from their fellow persons, through means of stratagem and engrossment, value or wealth for which they have rendered no services. But to take from fellow persons, through means of stratagem and engrossment, value or wealth for which there was no services rendered is swindle and to some extent robbery. Therefore, monopolies are undemocratic, are nuisances, and must be classed under the calendar of criminal perpetrations.

For example, we will say a body of individuals through means of co-operation and investment by their united capitals would continually buy the entire amount of sugar from the various factories, and retain it and unjustly enhance the price from five cents per pound to twenty cents per pound; and say that each family, on the average, used one barrel a year, so that each family would be yearly deprived of an amount which would equal in value to three barrels of sugar. Now, what matters it to those families so far as injustice and imposition is concerned whether they are bereaved by means of stratagem and engrossment or by means of open theft? What matters it whether this organization of individuals, by means of stratagem and engrossment, take three barrels of sugar from every family through the country every year without rendering them any services, or whether they would yearly frequent this country and at midnight hours take premeditatedly from each family three barrels of sugar? No difference is it—the state of those families each being unjustly and violently bereaved of three barrels of sugar without any services rendered them is enough.

Again: since it is in conformity to the object and province of democracy for all to be secured with just claims, it follows, as an established principle, that, in all indispensable transactions, wherein oppression of the people not engaged therein ensues, such methods of performing them only should be tolerated which cause the least thereof; but which infringe not liberty. But to adjust transactions with respect to monopolies so that less oppression among the people not engaged therein ensues, will not infringe the liberty of the respective partisans; since the only claim that could be impleded for would be the retention of employment, which (being that the same services can be effected without the instigation of so much injustice, and they can obtain other forms of employment as other persons do) would be no just claim, no right. So again, then, monopolies are undemocratic, and can not exist.

Democracy, consequently, is required to suppress noteworthy monopolies the same as all other noteworthy nuisances, and punish the partisans thereof the same as all conspirators, according to the nature and degree of injury that is perpetrated.

It also follows that the prices respective to commodities, and rates respective to capital, to private conveyances, etc., must be regulated through natural scarcity and plentifulness or demand, fluctuate in themselves unrestraintly to the fullest extent of justice. But there will be exempt all organizations of persons of business engagements of their own; and will be privileged, no matter how large the establishment, to retain indefinitely whatever produced or manufactured, and to obtain the highest prices the markets will afford or their customers will pay them, since all individuals (singly or conjointly) have a right to do with their own productions whatever they choose, according to democracy. And it will permit a single individual to speculate or invest to the fullest extent of the capital which rightfully belongs to himself, in anything he chooses; and to fix prices respective to commodities, rates respective to capital, etc., to suit himself. This is so for the same reason which I just stated, that democracy gives all individuals the right to do with their own whatever they choose.

The reason it would not be right for an individual to [illegible] with a capital greater than his own in such a manner and to such an extent as to blockade or usurp a certain department or departments in commerce, and enhance, unjustly, prices respective to commodities, rates respective to capital, etc., at discretion, is that in this way a corporation could exist in secrecy, wherein one individual would use their united capitals as his own, and in this manner the people bereaved of unjust prices or rates the same as in an open monopoly. Obvious is it then to all, that provision in the Constitution of the United States should be made for the suppression of noteworthy monopolies, the same as provision is made for the execution of justice in other matter.

There should therefore be prescribed in the Constitution of the United States, ANY CORPORATION OR UNION OF INDIVIDUALS WHATEVER, MAKING AN INVESTMENT, COMBINATION OR TRUST, WITH THEIR UNITED CAPITALS, OR THE INVESTMENT BY A SINGLE INDIVIDUAL OF A CAPITAL GREATER THAN HIS OWN (GREATER THAN WHICH RIGHTFULLY BELONGS TO HIMSELF), SO AS TO BLOCKADE OR USURP A CERTAIN DEPARTMENT OR DEPARTMENTS OF COMMERCE, WHEREBY HE OR THEY ARE ENABLED TO ENHANCE UNJUSTLY, PRICES RESPECTIVE TO COMMODITIES, OR RATES RESPECTIVE TO CAPITAL OR RATES RESPECTIVE TO CONVEYANCE, ETC., AT HIS OR THEIR DISCRETION, OR THROUGH ANY FORM OF INVESTMENT, COMBINATION OR TRUST INCURRING NOTEWORTHY OPPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE, KNOWN AS A MONOPOLY, WHOSE PREVALENCE SHALL EXIST IN TWO OR MORE STATES, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, WHEN NOTEWORTHY, SHALL BE DEEMED GUILTY OF PERPETRATION OF CRIME, THE PERPETRATORS PUNISHED ACCORDINGLY, THE ORGANIZATION DISPERSED, AND THE TRANSACTION SUPPRESSED.

So too, should there be prescribed in the constitutions of all the states, this same principle, disallowing in each and every one the existence of any monopoly, which causes noteworthy oppression of the people thereof respectively—such as I have inserted in the constitutions hereafter given. These principles could, too, be inserted in the constitutions or ordinances of minor political divisions, but not with much propriety until after the establishment of the Vicissitude of Occupation given in Part Three; since they would tend to conflict with business at common partnership, as in retail mercantile establishments.

It is also well, for the purpose of insuring democratic administration in all particulars whatever, to prescribe in each and every constitution, ANY INDISPENSABLE TRANSACTION OR PURSUANCE WHATEVER WHEREIN OPPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE NOT ENGAGED THEREIN ENSUES, WHEN NOTEWORTHY, SUCH METHODS OF PERFORMING THEM ONLY SHALL BE TOLERATED WHICH CAUSE THE LEAST THEREOF; BUT WHICH INFRINGE NOT, EITHER THE LIBERTY OF THE OCCUPANTS ENGAGED, OR OF THOSE NOT ENGAGED.

It is to be known, however, that the suppression of that form of monopolies which are formed by mere trusts or combinations, are the most difficult. Manufacturing establishments, for instance, can secretly have an obligatory contract specifying their prices or rates, and each establishment then have high prices or rates as though they were thus fixed by themselves, individually. Although, should such a conspiracy to swindle the people be proved on the perpetrators, through turning states evidence or other means, they would be handled the same as the perpetrators in the conspiracy of doing other evils, as, for instance, in the conspiracy of harboring stolen property after it is stolen. Nevertheless, this kind of monopoly will become more and more obsolete as the people become educated to the proper way of regulating prices, as I described in chapter six, Co-operation of Occupants, Part Three.

Some may there be who do not exactly understand the limit of the restriction of this kind of speculation. For instance, how much of a certain thing, as how much land, would the people be allowed to buy or speculate in. Therefore, I will again synonymously say, that, "any one individual, under this provision in the constitution, is privileged to buy or speculate to the extent of his means, if he wishes to do so; and that two or more individuals, conjointly, are privileged to buy or speculate to an extent so as not to incur noteworthy oppression of the people of the state or states respectively." And some may here say, "but there might be incurred noteworthy oppression of the people by the investment of a single individual of merely his own capital, as in case of a millionaire." But, when it comes to incurring oppression of the people by the speculation of a single individual it cannot be remedied, as this would go beyond the bounds of democratic principles. Nevertheless, this, it is to be understood, will be very uncommon after the government is entirely democratic, and the people all alike given equal chances in speculation and the creation of so many millionaires and large capitalists stopped, whereof I treat hereafter.

So, it is also well to have prescribed in the constitution, respectively, BUT NO SINGLE INDIVIDUAL SHALL BE DISFRANCHISED OR PROHIBITED IN MAKING ANY INVESTMENT WHATEVER TO THE FULLEST EXTENT OF THE WEALTH OR CAPITAL WHICH RIGHTFULLY BELONGS TO HIMSELF, NOR PROHIBITED IN HAVING HIS OWN PRICES ON COMMODITIES, RATES ON CAPITAL, RATES ON CONVEYANCE, OR AS THE CASE MAY BE, RESPECTIVELY.

A Philosophical Family.

Amelia has pimples, and sores in the head,
From humors internal her nose has grown red;
She's a boil on her neck that is big as a bell.
But in other respects she is doing quite well.

And pa has dyspepsia, malaria and gout,
His hands with sault-rheum are all broken out;
He is prone to rheumatics that make his legs swell,
But in other respects he is doing quite well.

And ma has night sweats and a troublesome cough,
That all our doctors can't seem to drive off;
She wakes every night and coughs quite a spell,
But in other respects she is doing quite well.

This is not like philosophy to help one bear the ills of life, but in the case of this family what is most needed is a good supply of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It would cleanse Amelia's bad blood, cure pa's ailments, and check ma's cough. The "Golden Medical Discovery," by its action on the liver, cleanes the system of impurities. It cures humors, ulcers, boils, scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas and all kinds of sores and swellings. The only guaranteed blood-purifier.

MARSHALL'S TRAGIC END.

Domestic Troubles Lead to Suicide by Shooting.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Edwin E. Marshall of the United States navy shot himself dead at a hotel Wednesday morning, as the result of trouble with his beautiful and wealthy wife. The parties were married in Denver last February, and wedding bells rang in advent of the expectations of a happy life, which proved only a dream. Marshall was stationed on a United States man-of-war at Philadelphia, but his rank is not known in this city.

Marshall's wife was a young and beautiful woman, but they did not agree. His wife finally left him. It is said she made her way to California. The husband started in hot pursuit. After scouring several of the western states the wife was hunted down in Chicago. She quitted the Hotel Parker about three weeks ago, just a few minutes after her husband arrived in desperation.

The wife concealed herself about the city, fearing her husband would murder her. Last Monday she had him held in $100 bond to keep the peace. She also commenced proceedings against him for divorce and a share of his property.

In this divorce suit, which, by the way, was filed only one day previous to the death of Marshall, the wife charged that her husband so abused her that she had to leave him, and that when he finally found her he tried to replevin her wedding presents. A pathetic feature of this litigation is that Tuesday night the wife sought a writ to prevent him from leaving the country before her suit reached a hearing. The sequel shows that Marshall found a way to evade the writ.

"The man was in a terrible state," said E. P. Smith of the Hotel Parker. "He came here some four weeks ago in search of his wife. She fooled him and took to some hiding place in the city. He wanted to get her back here and for this purpose he left our hotel in a few days thinking she would return. When he came in Wednesday morning and asked if she had called he was in a frenzy. He called for room 18 if it was not occupied. This was the room his wife occupied when she was here. He was shown the room and finding her not in there, exclaimed: 'It is all over; I will give up the chase.' In a few seconds a shot was heard and he was found shot through the temple with a bullet from a revolver."

Items from the Crescent City.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—Sunday a laborer named John Torris reached the city and was sent to the hospital suffering from a pistol shot wound on the left arm. He claims he was shot by a man named Ensebio at West Baton Rouge without any cause.

At the corner of Clio and Willow streets, George Ring, a switchman on the Illinois Central road, while uncoupling a car was struck by some lumber on another one and knocked down. The ambulance conveyed him to the hospital, where it was found he was seriously injured about the back and spine.

Laura Whitmore of 29 Howard street attempted to commit suicide by swallowing an overdose of laudanum. The ambulance surgeons attended to the woman and left her out of danger.

Pound Contractor Kerr was arrested and locked up in the Sixth precinct station for stealing a horse belonging to ex-Councilman J. A. Brennan from a lot on Fourth, near Constance street.

While passing the corner of Carondelet walk and Derbigny streets on her return from market, a lady, Louisa Herbert, was struck on the left side of the body and seriously injured by the swinging electric light falling to the ground while being trimmed by one of the electric light employes. She was conveyed to her residence, 359 Carondelet walk, and attended to.

At the corner of Bienville and Roman streets William Whitkam and Louis Fincke had a row about 50 cents, which the latter claims was due him. The affair ended in Whitkam being stabbed in the left side of the chest and painfully wounded by Fincke, who was arrested.

Against Monopolies.

At the recent session of the Alliance state convention in Georgia important action was taken in opposition to monopolies. A resolution was offered on the text book question requesting the convention to indorse state contract and state uniformity. The leading speakers in the convention opposed it as a tendency toward state monopoly, and Mr. Moody made a very strong speech, saying that the selection of school books should remain in the hands of the educators of the different districts, and that it should under all circumstances remain out of politics; that it had no more right to become a political question than had the religion of the people. Mr. Livingston indorsed these views, and the convention rejected the resolution unanimously. The jute trust advance of 10 per cent in prices is already beginning to stir up the Georgia Alliance men, and there is sure to be an investigation before long of the peculiar relations which this trust has established with the National Union company and the Alliance co-operative stores.

DOWN TO DEATH.

The Anaconda Mine Crushes the Life Out of Seventeen Miners.

BUTTE CITY, Mont., Nov. 9.—Seventeen miners coming up in a cage were killed in the Anaconda mines. When midnight, the time to shift the gangs of men, had come, and the cage full of miners returning from their work stepped out into the open air, their places were at once taken by the nineteen men who were to take up the work they had just abandoned, and the cage was started toward the depths below. The rope had been unwound but a couple of times from the slowly revolving windlass when there was a sudden snap and a cry of horror from the shaft in which the cage had but a moment disappeared. The rope had been broken, and the cage with its nineteen inmates was precipitated to the bottom of the mine. It was some little time before any assistance could be sent to them. The shaft down which they had plunged to death was useless, and the other ways of getting at the place where they had fallen were roundabout. Fortunately there was some help for the dead and dying in the mine itself. A number of miners who were through work and were waiting to be relieved were at the bottom of the shaft, awaiting the shaft to take them out. Amidst these men, narrowly missing some, the cage dashed. It broke, and before their eyes were the mangled bodies of the companions whom they were awaiting. There was little however that could be done. Of the nineteen men who made the fearful ride seventeen were dead, their forms crushed out of all resemblance to those of human beings, while the two who were yet breathing had small hopes of recovery. The Anaconda is the biggest mine in the state, employing 400 men, and was reopened, after a long closing, Oct. 22.

In the Chickasaw Country.

TISHOMINGO, I. T., Nov. 9.—Near here a well known colored man named Colbert had been attending to a herd of cattle for Lewis Keel, a full-blooded Chickasaw citizen and member of the Chickasaw legislature, receiving a share of the cattle as compensation. A short time ago Lewis Keel made an assignment of all his cattle to his son, Johnson Keel, a deputy United States marshal for the Paris district. Colbert met Johnson Keel at the residence of Mrs. Greenwood, Keel's sister, and desired a settlement. A dispute arose, when Keel drew his pistol and shot Colbert, the ball entering near the left eye. He fell to the floor and was left alone in the house for thirty-six hours without food or water. He was found by his father lying in the fireplace covered with blood and ashes, but still conscious. He related the facts as above stated before he died. As both parties are Chickasaw citizens the United States courts have no jurisdiction. The murderer has not been arrested.

Getting Ready for Chile.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Brooklyn navy yard presented an appearance of activity witnessed for the first time since the exciting times of the civil war Sunday. The hum and din of the busy workmen on the war vessels Milantonomah and Atlantic disturbed the stillness as a body of blue-jackets marched across the yard to divine service. Workmen have been busily engaged day and night for the past week in preparing the two vessels for speedy service at sea. Sunday the work of preparation was continued, it being the first Sunday since the late war that such a thing has occurred. There were eighty men at work on the two vessels and all expedition will be used until they are ready for service at sea. The unusual bustle and activity at the navy yard is said to be due to the strained relations between this country and Chile. It has caused the government much anxiety to get its war vessels ready for any possible contingency.

Chile at the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The dispatch in the afternoon papers stating that the three commissioners for the World's fair in Chile had been withdrawn by order of the director general is pronounced at the headquarters of the Latin-American bureau in this city to be absolutely false in every particular. There is only one commissioner for the World's fair in Chile. He has been in Bolivia all summer making a collection of minerals and only returned to Santiago two weeks ago, since the death of Balmaceda and the establishment of the present government. He has received assurances from Augustine Edwards and Edward Matte, leaders of the Congressional party, that as soon as the presidential election is over and the government is fully organized the question of the representation of Chile at the exposition will be taken up without the slightest doubt of a complete exhibit of the enormous resources of the republic in Chicago in 1893.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Why will anyone with weak kidneys continue to suffer?

Of all insidious ailments there is none more certain of deadly effect, if neglected, than Bright's Disease. Thousands who suffer from this disease do not even know they are affected. It comes upon a person slowly but surely, like a thief in the night. It has no symptoms peculiarly its own, but its effect is indicated by symptoms that might be traced to other causes. The fluids of the body vary in color from light to dark, and if left standing assume a cloudy appearance and deposit a sediment that may be either red or white. Frequently there is a pain about the loins, under the left shoulder, or in the small of the back. The victim feels listless and drowsy, is easily fatigued, and usually of a gloomy and melancholy disposition. The kidneys are always diseased, in fact, Bright's Disease is to the kidneys what consumption is to the lungs. The kidneys become ulcerated and waste away. Unable to properly perform their function, the kidneys become inactive and every function of the body suffers. Great weakness and emaciation follows. A state of impoverishment of the blood sets in and the end is complete exhaustion. To check this decay of the kidneys, to infuse renewed strength, and to aid the recuperative tendencies of Nature, no remedy acts so kindly and harmoniously as Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla. Sufferers from Bright's Disease given up by their friends and physicians to die have found safety in this remedy and by its use been restored to health and physical vigor. Edward M. Mays, Augusta, Ky., writes: "I was dying from weakness of the kidneys. My doctor said it was Bright's disease, and that there was no hope of recovery. I was very pale, weak, languid and thin when I began to use Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla. The change it made in me in three months is simply wonderful. I gained in flesh. My urine became clear and gave me no pain. My digestion and appetite became good. My cheeks and complexion assumed the rich color of health. I became strong, and in fact never felt better in my life than I do now. I believe I owe my continued existence to Bull's Sarsaparilla."

Good News!

No one, who is willing to adopt the right course, need be long afflicted with boils, carbuncles, pimples, or other cutaneous eruptions. These are the results of Nature's efforts to expel poisonous and effete matter from the blood, and show plainly that the system is ridding itself through the skin of impurities which it was the legitimate work of the liver and kidneys to remove. To restore these organs to their proper functions, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the medicine required. Just no other blood-purifier can compare with it, thousands testify who have gained from the tyranny of depraved blood by the use of this medicine.

"For nine years I was afflicted with a skin disease that did not yield to any remedy until a friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. With the use of this medicine the complaint disappeared. It is my belief that no other blood medicine could have effected so rapid and complete a cure."—Andres D. Garcia, C. Victoria, Tamaulipas, Mexico.

"My face, for years, was covered with pimples and humors, for which I could find no remedy till I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Three bottles of this great blood medicine effected a thorough cure. I confidently recommend it to all suffering from similar troubles."—M. Parker, Concord, Vt.

Upon the subject of Monopolies we quote the following from the New World, now being published at this office:

MONOPOLIES UNDEMOCRATIC AND NUISANCES.

BY the term MONOPOLY (TRUSTS, as generally spoken of) I mean such a co-operation of individuals and investment or combination of their united capitals or the investment by a single individual of a capital greater than his own (greater than which rightfully belongs to himself), so as to blockade or usurp certain departments of commerce, whereby they are enabled to enhance unjustly, prices respective to commodities, and rates respective to capital, to conveyance, etc., at their discretion.

That monopolies are undemocratic and are nuisances we must infer from the principles of democracy. In Chapter Two I said, "a RIGHT of a person is a just claim, or a claim whose exercise conveys no evil or injury upon other persons or upon the respective person; and LIBERTY the privilege secured to each and every person to have and exercise such rights." It is then to be seen that democracy permits persons to engage in all business pursuances which confers services, and that will not encroach one-an other; but will not permit the contrary. As: persons, singly or conjointly, are permitted, without encroaching others, to buy land, produce whatever they may choose, and to sell it at the highest prices they are capable of obtaining; are permitted, without encroaching others, to erect manufacturing establishments, manufacture com modities at will, and sell them at the highest prices the markets will afford; are permitted, without encroaching others, to buy various commodities or property and again sell thereafter and make by their transactions as much profit as they can; are permitted, without encroaching others, to lend out land or other property or any wealth whatever and obtain as high rents or rates as they can get; etc. On the contrary, a body of individuals are not permitted to buy all the land there is for mere purpose of predominance, whereby they are enabled to usurp exorbitant rents; are not permitted to buy all the farming produce of a certain kind, whereby they are enabled to enhance the prices beyond what is right; and so are not permitted to buy all the commodity whatever of a certain kind, whereby they are enabled to enhance unjustly the prices thereof; are not permitted to attain and retain any noteworthy part of the monetary medium, whereby they are enabled to fix unjustly, at their own discretion, the value or rates respectively; etc.: for this would be taking from their fellow persons, through means of stratagem and engrossment, value or wealth for which they have rendered no services. But to take from fellow persons, through means of stratagem and engrossment, value or wealth for which there was no services rendered is swindle and to some extent robbery. Therefore, monopolies are undemocratic, are nuisances, and must be classed under the calendar of criminal perpetrations.

For example, we will say a body of individuals through means of co-operation and investment by their united capitals would continually buy the entire amount of sugar from the various factories, and retain it and unjustly enhance the price from five cents per pound to twenty cents per pound; and say that each family, on the average, used one barrel a year, so that each family would be yearly deprived of an amount which would equal in value to three barrels of sugar. Now, what matters it to those families so far as injustice and imposition is concerned whether they are bereaved by means of stratagem and engrossment or by means of open theft? What matters it whether this organization of individuals, by means of stratagem and engrossment, take three barrels of sugar from every family through the country every year without rendering them any services, or whether they would yearly frequent this country and at midnight hours take premeditatedly from each family three barrels of sugar? No difference is it—the state of those families each being unjustly and violently bereaved of three barrels of sugar without any services rendered them is enough.

Again: since it is in conformity to the object and province of democracy for all to be secured with just claims, it follows, as an established principle, that, in all indispensable transactions, wherein oppression of the people not engaged therein ensues, such methods of performing them only should be tolerated which cause the least thereof; but which infringe not liberty. But to adjust transactions with respect to monopolies so that less oppression among the people not engaged therein ensues, will not infringe the liberty of the respective partisans; since the only claim that could be impleded for would be the retention of employment, which (being that the same services can be effected without the instigation of so much injustice, and they can obtain other forms of employment as other persons do) would be no just claim, no right. So again, then, monopolies are undemocratic, and can not exist.

Democracy, consequently, is required to suppress noteworthy monopolies the same as all other noteworthy nuisances, and punish the partisans thereof the same as all conspirators, according to the nature and degree of injury that is perpetrated.

It also follows that the prices respective to commodities, and rates respective to capital, to private conveyances, etc., must be regulated through natural scarcity and plentifulness or demand, fluctuate in themselves unrestraintly to the fullest extent of justice. But there will be exempt all organizations of persons of business engagements of their own; and will be privileged, no matter how large the establishment, to retain indefinitely whatever produced or manufactured, and to obtain the highest prices the markets will afford or their customers will pay them, since all individuals (singly or conjointly) have a right to do with their own productions whatever they choose, according to democracy. And it will permit a single individual to speculate or invest to the fullest extent of the capital which rightfully belongs to himself, in anything he chooses; and to fix prices respective to commodities, rates respective to capital, etc., to suit himself. This is so for the same reason which I just stated, that democracy gives all individuals the right to do with their own whatever they choose.

The reason it would not be right for an individual to [illegible] with a capital greater than his own in such a manner and to such an extent as to blockade or usurp a certain department or departments in commerce, and enhance, unjustly, prices respective to commodities, rates respective to capital, etc., at discretion, is that in this way a corporation could exist in secrecy, wherein one individual would use their united capitals as his own, and in this manner the people bereaved of unjust prices or rates the same as in an open monopoly. Obvious is it then to all, that provision in the Constitution of the United States should be made for the suppression of noteworthy monopolies, the same as provision is made for the execution of justice in other matter.

There should therefore be prescribed in the Constitution of the United States, ANY CORPORATION OR UNION OF INDIVIDUALS WHATEVER, MAKING AN INVESTMENT, COMBINATION OR TRUST, WITH THEIR UNITED CAPITALS, OR THE INVESTMENT BY A SINGLE INDIVIDUAL OF A CAPITAL GREATER THAN HIS OWN (GREATER THAN WHICH RIGHTFULLY BELONGS TO HIMSELF), SO AS TO BLOCKADE OR USURP A CERTAIN DEPARTMENT OR DEPARTMENTS OF COMMERCE, WHEREBY HE OR THEY ARE ENABLED TO ENHANCE UNJUSTLY, PRICES RESPECTIVE TO COMMODITIES, OR RATES RESPECTIVE TO CAPITAL OR RATES RESPECTIVE TO CONVEYANCE, ETC, AT HIS OR THEIR DISCRETION, OR THROUGH ANY FORM OF INVESTMENT, COMBINATION OR TRUST INCURRING NOTEWORTHY OPPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE, KNOWN AS A MONOPOLY, WHOSE PREVALENCE SHALL EXIST IN TWO OR MORE STATES, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, WHEN NOTEWORTHY, SHALL BE DEEMED GUILTY OF PERPETRATION OF CRIME, THE PERPETRATORS PUNISHED ACCORDINGLY, THE ORGANIZATION DISPERSED, AND THE TRANSACTION SUPPRESSED.

So too, should there be prescribed in the constitutions of all the states, this same principle, disallowing in each and every one the existence of any monopoly, which causes noteworthy oppression of the people thereof respectively—such as I have inserted in the constitutions hereafter given. These principles could, too, be inserted in the constitutions or ordinances of minor political divisions, but not with much propriety until after the establishment of the Vicissitude of Occupation given in Part Three; since they would tend to conflict with business at common partnership, as in retail mercantile establishments.

It is also well, for the purpose of insuring democratic administration in all particulars whatever, to prescribe in each and every constitution, ANY INDISPENSABLE TRANSACTION OR PURSUANCE WHATEVER WHEREIN OPPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE NOT ENGAGED THEREIN ENSUES, WHEN NOTEWORTHY, SUCH METHODS OF PERFORMING THEM ONLY SHALL BE TOLERATED WHICH CAUSE THE LEAST THEREOF; BUT WHICH INFRINGE NOT, EITHER THE LIBERTY OF THE OCCUPANTS ENGAGED, OR OF THOSE NOT ENGAGED.

It is to be known, however, that the suppression of that form of monopolies which are formed by mere trusts or combinations, are the most difficult. Manufacturing establishments, for instance, can secretly have an obligatory contract specifying their prices or rates, and each establishment then have high prices or rates as though they were thus fixed by themselves, individually. Although, should such a conspiracy to swindle the people be proved on the perpetrators, through turning states evidence or other means, they would be handled the same as the perpetrators in the conspiracy of doing other evils, as, for instance, in the conspiracy of harboring stolen property after it is stolen. Nevertheless, this kind of monopoly will become more and more obsolete as the people become educated to the proper way of regulating prices, as I described in chapter six, Co-operation of Occupants, Part Three.

Some may there be who do not exactly understand the limit of the restriction of this kind of speculation. For instance, how much of a certain thing, as how much land, would the people be allowed to buy or speculate in. Therefore, I will again synonymously say, that, "any one individual, under this provision in the constitution, is privileged to buy or speculate to the extent of his means, if he wishes to do so; and that two or more individuals, conjointly, are privileged to buy or speculate to an extent so as not to incur noteworthy oppression of the people of the state or states respectively." And some may here say, "but there might be incurred noteworthy oppression of the people by the investment of a single individual of merely his own capital, as in case of a millionaire." But, when it comes to incurring oppression of the people by the speculation of a single individual it cannot be remedied, as this would go beyond the bounds of democratic principles. Nevertheless, this, it is to be understood, will be very uncommon after the government is entirely democratic, and the people all alike given equal chances in speculation and the creation of so many millionaires and large capitalists stopped, whereof I treat hereafter.

So, it is also well to have prescribed in the constitution, respectively, BUT NO SINGLE INDIVIDUAL SHALL BE DISFRANCHISED OR PROHIBITED IN MAKING ANY INVESTMENT WHATEVER TO THE FULLEST EXTENT OF THE WEALTH OR CAPITAL WHICH RIGHTFULLY BELONGS TO HIMSELF, NOR PROHIBITED IN HAVING HIS OWN PRICES ON COMMODITIES, RATES ON CAPITAL, RATES ON CONVEYANCE, OR AS THE CASE MAY BE, RESPECTIVELY.

Domestic Troubles Lead to Suicide by Shooting.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Edwin E. Marshall of the United States navy shot himself dead at a hotel Wednesday morning, as the result of trouble with his beautiful and wealthy wife. The parties were married in Denver last February, and wedding bells rang in advent of the expectations of a happy life, which proved only a dream. Marshall was stationed on a United States man-of-war at Philadelphia, but his rank is not known in this city.

Marshall's wife was a young and beautiful woman, but they did not agree. His wife finally left him. It is said she made her way to California. The husband started in hot pursuit. After scouring several of the western states the wife was hunted down in Chicago. She quitted the Hotel Parker about three weeks ago, just a few minutes after her husband arrived in desperation.

The wife concealed herself about the city, fearing her husband would murder her. Last Monday she had him held in $100 bond to keep the peace. She also commenced proceedings against him for divorce and a share of his property.

In this divorce suit, which, by the way, was filed only one day previous to the death of Marshall, the wife charged that her husband so abused her that she had to leave him, and that when he finally found her he tried to replevin her wedding presents. A pathetic feature of this litigation is that Tuesday night the wife sought a writ to prevent him from leaving the country before her suit reached a hearing. The sequel shows that Marshall found a way to evade the writ.

"The man was in a terrible state," said E. P. Smith of the Hotel Parker. "He came here some four weeks ago in search of his wife. She fooled him and took to some hiding place in the city. He wanted to get her back here and for this purpose he left our hotel in a few days thinking she would return. When he came in Wednesday morning and asked if she had called he was in a frenzy. He called for room 18 if it was not occupied. This was the room his wife occupied when she was here. He was shown the room and finding her not in there, exclaimed: 'It is all over; I will give up the chase.' In a few seconds a shot was heard and he was found shot through the temple with a bullet from a revolver."

Items from the Crescent City.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—Sunday a laborer named John Torris reached the city and was sent to the hospital suffering from a pistol shot wound on the left arm. He claims he was shot by a man named Ensebio at West Baton Rouge without any cause.

At the corner of Clio and Willow streets, George Ring, a switchman on the Illinois Central road, while uncoupling a car was struck by some lumber on another one and knocked down. The ambulance conveyed him to the hospital, where it was found he was seriously injured about the back and spine.

Laura Whitmore of 29 Howard street attempted to commit suicide by swallowing an overdose of laudanum. The ambulance surgeons attended to the woman and left her out of danger.

Pound Contractor Kerr was arrested and locked up in the Sixth precinct station for stealing a horse belonging to ex-Councilman J. A. Brennan from a lot on Fourth, near Constance street.

While passing the corner of Carondelet walk and Derbigny streets on her return from market, a lady, Louisa Herbert, was struck on the left side of the body and seriously injured by the swinging electric light falling to the ground while being trimmed by one of the electric light employes. She was conveyed to her residence, 359 Carondelet walk, and attended to.

At the corner of Bienville and Roman streets William Wittkam and Louis Fincke had a row about 50 cents, which the latter claims was due him. The affair ended in Wittkam being stabbed in the left side of the chest and painfully wounded by Fincke, who was arrested.

Against Monopolies.

At the recent session of the Alliance state convention in Georgia important action was taken in opposition to monopolies. A resolution was offered on the text book question requesting the convention to indorse state contract and state uniformity. The leading speakers in the convention opposed it as a tendency toward state monopoly, and Mr. Moody made a very strong speech, saying that the selection of school books should remain in the hands of the educators of the different districts, and that it should under all circumstances remain out of politics; that it had no more right to become a political question than had the religion of the people. Mr. Livingston indorsed these views, and the convention rejected the resolution unanimously. The jute trust advance of 10 per cent in prices is already beginning to stir up the Georgia Alliancemen, and there is sure to be an investigation before long of the peculiar relations which this trust has established with the National Union company and the Alliance co-operative stores.

DOWN TO DEATH.

The Anaconda Mine Crushes the Life Out of Seventeen Miners.

BUTTE CITY, Mont., Nov. 9.—Seventeen miners coming up in a cage were killed in the Anaconda mines. When midnight, the time to shift the gangs of men, had come, and the cage full of miners returning from their work stepped out into the open air, their places were at once taken by the nineteen men who were to take up the work they had just abandoned, and the cage was started toward the depths below. The rope had been unwound but a couple of times from the slowly revolving windlass when there was a sudden snap and a cry of horror from the shaft in which the cage had but a moment disappeared. The rope had been broken, and the cage with its nineteen inmates was precipitated to the bottom of the mine. It was some little time before any assistance could be sent to them. The shaft down which they had plunged to death was useless, and the other ways of getting at the place where they had fallen were roundabout. Fortunately there was some help for the dead and dying in the mine itself. A number of miners who were through work and were waiting to be relieved were at the bottom of the shaft, awaiting the shaft to take them out. Amidst these men, narrowly missing some, the cage dashed. It broke, and before their eyes were the mangled bodies of the companions whom they were awaiting. There was little however that could be done. Of the nineteen men who made the fearful ride seventeen were dead, their forms crushed out of all resemblance to those of human beings, while the two who were yet breathing had small hopes of recovery. The Anaconda is the biggest mine in the state, employing 400 men, and was reopened, after a long closing, Oct. 22.

In the Chickasaw Country.

TISHOMINGO, I. T., Nov. 9.—Near here a well known colored man named Colbert had been attending to a herd of cattle for Lewis Keel, a full-blooded Chickasaw citizen and member of the Chickasaw legislature, receiving a share of the cattle as compensation. A short time ago Lewis Keel made an assignment of all his cattle to his son, Johnson Keel, a deputy United States marshal for the Paris district. Colbert met Johnson Keel at the residence of Mrs. Greenwood, Keel's sister, and desired a settlement. A dispute arose, when Keel drew his pistol and shot Colbert, the ball entering near the left eye. He fell to the floor and was left alone in the house for thirty-six hours without food or water. He was found by his father lying in the fireplace covered with blood and ashes, but still conscious. He related the facts as above stated before he died. As both parties are Chickasaw citizens the United States courts have no jurisdiction. The murderer has not been arrested.

Getting Ready for Chile.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Brooklyn navy yard presented an appearance of activity witnessed for the first time since the exciting times of the civil war Sunday. The hum and din of the busy workmen on the war vessels Milantonomah and Atlantic disturbed the stillness as a body of 400 blue-jackets marched across the yard to divine service. Workmen have been busily engaged day and night for the past week in preparing the two vessels for speedy service at sea. Sunday the work of preparation was continued, it being the first Sunday since the late war that such a thing has occurred. There were eighty men at work on the two vessels and all expedition will be used until they are ready for service at sea. The unusual bustle and activity at the navy yard is said to be due to the strained relations between this country and Chile. It has caused the government much anxiety to get its war vessels ready for any possible contingency.

Chile at the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The dispatch in the afternoon papers stating that the three commissioners for the World's fair in Chile had been withdrawn by order of the director general is pronounced at the headquarters of the Latin-American bureau in this city to be absolutely false in every particular. There is only one commissioner for the World's fair in Chile. He has been in Bolivia all summer making a collection of minerals and only returned to Santiago two weeks ago, since the death of Balmaceda and the establishment of the present government. He has received assurances from Augustine Edwards and Edward Matte, leaders of the Congressional party, that as soon as the presidential election is over and the government is fully organized the question of the representation of Chile at the exposition will be taken up without the slightest doubt of a complete exhibit of the enormous resources of the republic in Chicago in 1893.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Why will anyone with weak kidneys continue to suffer?

Of all insidious ailments there is none more certain of deadly effect, if neglected, than Bright's Disease. Thousands who suffer from this disease do not even know they are affected. It comes upon a person slowly but surely, like a thief in the night. It has no symptoms peculiarly its own, but its effect is indicated by symptoms that might be traced to other causes. The fluids of the body vary in color from light to dark, and if left standing assume a cloudy appearance and deposit a sediment that may be either red or white. Frequently there is a pain about the loins, under the left shoulder, or in the small of the back. The victim feels listless and drowsy, is easily fatigued, and usually of a gloomy and melancholy disposition. The kidneys are always diseased, in fact, Bright's Disease is to the kidneys what consumption is to the lungs. The kidneys become ulcerated and waste away. Unable to properly perform their function, the kidneys become inactive and every function of the body suffers. Great weakness and emaciation follows. A state of impoverishment of the blood sets in and the end is complete exhaustion. To check this decay of the kidneys, to infuse renewed strength, and to aid the recuperative tendencies of Nature, no remedy acts so kindly and harmoniously as Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla. Sufferers from Bright's Disease given up by their friends and physicians to die have found safety in this remedy and by its use been restored to health and physical vigor. Edward M. Mays, Augusta, Ky., writes: "I was dying from weakness of the kidneys. My doctor said it was Bright's disease, and that there was no hope of recovery. I was very pale, weak, languid and thin when I began to use Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla. The change it made in me in three months is simply wonderful. I gained in flesh. My urine became clear and gave me no pain. My digestion and appetite became good. My cheeks and complexion assumed the rich color of health. I became strong, and in fact never felt better in my life than I do now. I believe I owe my continued existence to Bull's Sarsaparilla."

WEAK KIDNEYS

MADE STRONG.

Good News!

No one, who is willing to adopt the right course, need be long afflicted with boils, carbuncles, pimples, or other cutaneous eruptions. These are the results of Nature's efforts to expel poisonous and effete matter from the blood, and show plainly that the system is ridding itself through the skin of impurities which it was the legitimate work of the liver and kidneys to remove. To restore these organs to their proper functions, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the medicine required. That no other blood-purifier can compare with it, thousands testify who have gained from the tyranny of depraved blood by the use of this medicine.

"For nine years I was afflicted with a skin disease that did not yield to any remedy until a friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. With the use of this medicine the complaint disappeared. It is my belief that no other blood medicine could have effected so rapid and complete a cure."—Andres D. Garcia, C. Victoria, Tamaulipas, Mexico.

"My face, for years, was covered with pimples and humors, for which I could find no remedy till I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Three bottles of this great blood medicine effected a thorough cure. I confidently recommend it to all suffering from similar troubles."—M. Parker, Concord, Vt.
